RELAXING HOLIDAYS
FOR YOU AND YOUR CAT

Even though you love quality time with your cat, she doesn't always love to travel.

Sometimes the happiest holiday for you and your cat is to leave her at home.

CHOOSING YOUR CAT-SITTER

Since leaving your cat in the care of a friend or family is not always possible, there are 3 options you might consider:

PREPARING FOR THE BIG DAY

Before you leave your cat at home and let a sitter take charge of her, here are some things to keep in mind:

- Replace old or broken toys and equipment
- Prepare her favourite toys and food
- Leave food and 2 bowls of water for your cat; you could even use an automatic dispenser
- Update vaccinations and medical information

TRANSPORTING YOUR CAT

If you're taking your cat to a cattery or family host, here is some advice for a relaxed car ride:

Avoid feeding 2hrs before the ride

Create a cosy carrier and let her discover it

Spray relaxing synthetic feline hormones in the carrier

Do some short trial runs with the car

Keep the car temperature comfortable for your cat

Avoid leaving your cat alone

Cats are often very attached to their home. So, finding the perfect cat-sitter will keep you both happy when you're away on holiday.

RELAXING HOLIDAYS FOR YOU AND YOUR CAT

You are about to leave on holiday and you haven’t yet decided who is going to take care of your cat while you are away. Taking her with you wouldn’t be the best option for you or her. Cats don’t necessarily like to be carried around and they don’t easily adjust to new environments. So, the best way to enjoy a perfect holiday is to leave your furry friend at home with a sitter. In this Infographic, we will show you the key steps you should follow before you leave your cat with her sitter in order to have a stress-free holiday.
